Hello Families and Friends,

We hope you are healthy and still staying at home as much as possible. You are missed here. Easter wasn't the same without all the flowers and chocolates from you but we did some things to make the week more fun.

Some Elders painted pictures of Easter eggs, we did an egg toss game, had an Easter themed tea party, watched an Easter movie and had an Easter church service. So, everyone got a little Easter in their week. Bingo was a hit with each Elder having a table to themselves. The fun must go on.

Many family members have dropped off items at the front door. Thank you for ensuring these items are still in the store packaging so we can disinfect them. Please remember to identify who the item is for. If it is not marked with the Elder's name we have no idea who it belongs to and we are disappointed to discard it. Also, a reminder that fruit of any kind can not be accepted.

We continue to wear our personal protective equipment at all times. Your loved ones appear to be adjusting to our new look. They are also getting used to the constant reminders to wash their hands and the handwashing for those who need us to do it for them.

We continue to screen all our team members on entry and anyone else who must enter. To date we are Covid-19 free and we are maintaining the staffing of our home to our normal levels.

Thank you for the many words of encouragement we have received. It means more than you can imagine. We would like to offer you words of encouragement also. You are staying at home and doing your part and we really appreciate that. We do look forward to your eventual return. In the meantime, we'll continue to tell your loved ones that you miss them and would be here in a minute, if you could. They are being reminded that you are staying away because you love them.

Wishing you a peaceful weekend.
